Number 7

Wednesday, March 10, 2010

The House was called to order by the Speaker at 1:00 p.m.

Prayer

The following prayer was offered by Monsignor Thomas J. Skindeleski of St. Vincent Ferrer Catholic Church of Delray Beach, upon invitation of Rep. Sachs:

Blessed are You, Lord God of the universe. Through Your goodness, You have created us to live in the shadow of Your abiding greatness with dignity and humility. You have made us in Your image and likeness with great love and care. You are all-wonderful and are the consolation of our hearts. We thank You for the many blessings and gifts You have poured forth on us—on the great state of Florida, on our nation, and on the world.

Today, we call upon You once again as we begin our legislative session. Send forth Your power to guide us in the right use of the gifts of our intellect and will. Give us Your counsel to exercise our collective wisdom in deliberating the issues that truly affect the lives of our constituents. That justice and peace be foremost in our minds as we craft the legislation that will affect the lives of millions of people in our state and beyond.

Open our minds to better understand the needs of the people who have chosen us to serve them, so that we may do our work well and seek to better the lives of the many people we represent. Direct our efforts to preserve the life and liberty of the most vulnerable of our society. Keep us respectful in our attitudes toward one another, honest in our work, courteous in our speech, and humbly aware of Your presence when dealing with the matters of government.

Encourage us in our struggle to maintain the integrity of the office to which we were elected—and prod us, when needed, to walk the walk You have determined as just and honorable. Protect us and our families from all harm, especially when we are apart, and guard us from the power of evildoers, especially those who would tempt us to stray from Your direction.

Keep the men and women of our armed forces safe from their enemies, help them in their desire to bring about peace in a troubled world, and return them safely soon to their loved ones. Look upon the poor with mercy and grant them an abundance of Your favor in their need.

Finally, Lord, grant us a sense of humor so that we may not take ourselves too seriously, and a greater sense of living up to the responsibility placed upon our shoulders to be true leaders. May we be proud to reflect Your goodness to us toward those who have need of that goodness. We ask this of You, heavenly Father, who guides and governs all of us forever and ever. Amen.

THE SPEAKER IN THE CHAIR

Motion

Rep. Fitzgerald moved to read HR 9013, honoring Mote Marine Laboratory, a second time by title. The motion was agreed to.

House Resolutions

HR 9013—A resolution recognizing Mote Marine Laboratory on the occasion of its 55th anniversary.

WHEREAS, housed in a 12-foot-by-20-foot shed in Placida, Florida, Mote Marine Laboratory was created in 1955 as the Cape Haze Marine Laboratory by the now-famous shark researcher Dr. Eugenie Clark, with backing from William and Alfred Vanderbilt, and

WHEREAS, during its first decade of existence, the laboratory experienced a substantial growth in its reputation as well as its facilities and, under the guidance of many people, including former directors, benefactor William R. Mote, and current president Dr. Kumar Mahadevan, now encompasses eight buildings dedicated to research, education, and conference space on its 10.5-acre campus in Sarasota, with research and education also conducted in an inland aquaculture park in Sarasota and in field stations in Charlotte Harbor and the Florida Keys, and

WHEREAS, starting with only a handful of researchers focused solely on sharks, Mote Marine Laboratory is now a powerhouse of near-shore marine research, studying everything from sharks to red tide to marine mammals to fisheries at seven centers, and today, as one of the world's few remaining independent marine research centers, boasts more than 190 staff members and 1,300 volunteers who contribute more than 200,000 hours, and

WHEREAS, Mote Marine Laboratory has also made a significant commitment to public education through its aquarium, which draws approximately 350,000 visitors annually, and through its online campus and distance learning program that reaches more than 28,000 K-12 and college students, and

WHEREAS, Mote Marine Laboratory has earned international recognition for its contributions to the greater body of scientific knowledge and public education relating to fragile marine and estuarine ecosystems, and

WHEREAS, Mote Marine Laboratory has significant research and academics partnerships with various members of the State University System and has entered into a landmark affiliation agreement with the University of South Florida that allows two of the state's leading research institutions to join forces in new science ventures, provide expanded learning programs, and create economic development opportunities for the region and state, NOW, THEREFORE,

Be It Resolved by the House of Representatives of the State of Florida:

That Mote Marine Laboratory is recognized for its tireless pursuit of answers to some of the ocean's most pressing questions, is commended for sharing its knowledge with the world, and is congratulated on the occasion of its 55th anniversary year.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of this resolution be presented to Dr. Kumar Mahadevan, President of Mote Marine Laboratory, as a tangible token of the sentiments expressed herein.
